

NYCO

Patria Netherlands is distributor of High Performance Lubricants of NYCO for the Dutch military market.

NYCO offers a comprehensive range of specialized lubricants and synthetic esters for aeronautics, defense and industrial applications: turbine oils, hydraulic fluids, multi-purpose or special-purpose greases, military lubricants, lubricants for aero-derivative turbines, industrial and automotive lubricants, synthetic esters, environmentally considerate lubricants. NYCO products are certified and approved by aircraft, engine and original equipment manufacturers and the Authorities, and are compliant with international standards and specifications.

In agreement with the new global awareness of our environment: NYCO continuously develops new oils and greases with extremely low toxicity.

As a smaller player in the market and making their own esters, NYCO can offer specially designed products in reasonable quantities. Custom packaging is also possible.
